

The 200-square-metre space belonging to a craft workshop.
Long, open space that I found I decided to allocate a useful living space full of light.

Is styled to resemble two separate contemporary area, connected by a staircase in the middle of the attic. Symmetrical roof seems to be a perfect base for smaller and larger opening.
Bright interior and streaks of light dominate the space.

